

Find a comfortable place to sit. Relax and take three deep breaths listening to everything around you.

Write, draw, sing, or take photos about five things in nature, or the environment that you notice around you.

If you're drawing, try this in the five brightest colours you can find.

